

A close-up photograph of a variety of fresh fruits. In the center is a whole pineapple with its characteristic diamond-patterned skin. To its left are clusters of dark purple and green grapes. Below the grapes are several bright red apples. To the right of the pineapple is a green kiwi fruit, partially sliced to show its white flesh and black seeds. Other visible fruits include a yellow pear, a green starfruit, and a small orange. The background is a solid, bright green color.
